

MR. CHARLES SENFT LOST AND FOUND DEAD ENTANGLED IN A WIRE FENCE

Death is Believed to be Due to Exposure at His Great Age of Near Four Score Years.

East Berlin was thrown into great excitement last Wednesday evening by the disappearance of Charles Senft, who made his home with his son-in-law, James L. Hildebrand, ticket agent at East Berlin. It was the custom of Mr. Senft to spend his evenings at the ticket office and he left the office at 8.30 o'clock, supposedly on the way to the home of Mr. Hildebrand. When the latter reached home his wife asked where her father was and was told of the aged man starting for home. An alarm was immediately given and the last that could be traced of him was that he was seen going up Abbotts-town street by some women. A searching party was organized and spent the night and part of the next day without result.

Mr. McGrail, who lives in the P. P. Eisenhart house about half mile from town saw something lying in a field on Thursday morning and thought it was a shock of corn fodder. The object was lying against a barb wire fence. It was not until 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon that he decided to walk down and see what the object was. He found Charles Senft fast in the barb wire and one leg so wrapped around with the wire that the latter had to be cut to release the body. The two top wires were in position and it looked as though in an attempt to get over the fence he fell back and became wrapped in the wire and unable to get loose died of the exposure. It is not thought that there was any foul play or that there was any self destruction. It is thought that Mr. Senft got on the wrong way going home. Some time ago he was on the wrong way for home and had to be put on the right way by others.

When Mr. McGrail came to town and told of his find, Dr. Spatz, the County Coroner happened to be in town and he at once impaneled a jury, who made known their verdict on Monday.

Mr. Senft was married twice, first to Mary Eckert and then to Lizetta Reed. He was aged 72 years, 10 months and 9 days. He leaves two sons and one daughter, William Senft of McSherrystown, by the first wife, and Levi Senft of McSherrystown, and Mrs. Mary Hildebrand of East Berlin, by the second wife. His second wife died last fall and he went to East Berlin to make his home with Mrs. Hildebrand. He was a citizen of Hamilton township for 41 years and always voted the Democratic ticket. The funeral was held yesterday—Tuesday—services by Rev. Geo. N. Laufer, interment in New Oxford cemetery.

Self Destruction Acts.

Edward Overbaugh, a cigar maker of McSherrystown shot himself Wednesday of last week. It is said he had been drinking heavily for several weeks. On Wednesday afternoon at 2 p. m. he was in the McSherry restaurant and purchased drinks for the crowd. He then walked to the barn of Peter McSherry and two shots were heard but no attention was paid as it was supposed some one was shooting rats. He was found about 5 o'clock lying in the barn and was able to walk to his home with some assistance. He had shot himself twice, one of the bullets entered his left breast, passed through the left lung and became imbedded in the muscles of the back and the other bullet went through the left shoulder making its exit under the shoulder blade. Drs. George L. and A. C. Rice located the bullet but were unable to remove it at once on account of the condition of the man. Overbaugh insisted that the shooting was accidental and refuses to say anything further in regard to the matter. The weapon was found on a log under a manger in the barn. Physicians expect wounded man to recover unless there are complications. He has a wife and four children.

William Weaver, utility man at the Central Hotel of York Springs in an attempt at self-destruction on Monday of last week swallowed a quarters worth of arsenic which he had purchased several weeks before in New Oxford. After taking the arsenic he told the women folks at the hotel what he had done and they sent for Dr. E. W. Cashman who succeeded in saving Weaver's life.

L. M. Buehler's Unusual Offer.

"It isn't often that I have faith enough in the medicines put up by other people to be willing to refund the money if it does not cure, said Druggist Buehler to one of his many customers, 'but I am glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that plan.'"

"The Dr. Howard Co. in order to get a quick introductory sale authorized me to sell the regular fifty cent bottle of the specific for half-price, 25c, and although I have sold a lot of it, and guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory."

"There are sixty doses in a vial that can be carried in the vest pocket or purse, and every one has more medicinal power than a big pill or tablet or a tumbler of mineral water."

"I am still selling the specific at half-price, although I cannot tell how long I shall be able to do so, and anyone who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or a general played-out condition, ought to take advantage of this chance. You can tell your readers if they are not satisfied with the specific they can come right back to my store and I will cheerfully refund their money."

Dr. Schwartz Released.

Dr. Henry W. Schwartz of New Oxford was last week released by a ruling of Judge Gorter of Baltimore from an indictment charging him with illegally practicing medicine in Maryland, the charge being based on the belief that it was necessary for the accused to have a license from the State Board of Medical Examiners. Dr. Swartz, through his counsel, demurred to the indictment on the ground that it did not specify when he began practicing, and, therefore, was not binding. The law governing the case states that physicians who began the practice of medicine in the state after 1898 are compelled to have a state license. Judge Gorter ruled that the indictment was not holding, because it simply stated that Dr. Swartz had been practicing medicine within the state and did not give the date when he began the practice here. The ruling, Judge Gorter stated, applies only to this case.

Raby, manager of the course this season was very fortunate in his selections and gave an exceptional line of good entertainments.

DR. J. W. RICHARD BURIED WITH SIMPLE SERVICES ACCORDING TO HIS REQUEST.

Brief Address by Dr. Dunbar, Pres. of Seminary Board, and Dr. J. A. Singmaster.

The funeral exercises of Dr. James W. Richard were marked with simplicity in accordance with his expressed desire. The body was taken to Christ Lutheran Church last Wednesday morning and services began about 11 o'clock and lasted about an hour. About fifty clergymen were present to pay their last respects to the admired teacher and friend. The services opened with a song by the College Quartet, Weigle Smith, Clara and Stouffer. Dr. S. G. Heibelbrow read from the Scriptures and Dr. Luther Kuhlman offered prayer, followed by singing of hymn 531.

Dr. W. H. Dunbar, President of the Board of Trustees of the Seminary, then briefly spoke, saying that the life of Dr. Richard had been devoted to the Church, and that his gifts had been devoted to the Church, and that he was the very first in scholarship and original investigation in the Church and that his last work would be monumental. He was loyal to his convictions at all times and in all places. He was intense in his life and activities and deep love was the manifestation of his life and this was his tribute to the man.

Dr. J. A. Singmaster, speaking for the faculty of the Seminary, said that Dr. Richard had died as he wished in the harness. Notwithstanding his health and vigor it seemed at times as if he had turned his face to the setting sun, telling his loved one what he would like to have done when he had passed away. His life could be said to be marked in two ways as a teacher and as a writer. Of the 38 years given to his church 34 had been devoted to teaching with between 300 and 400 young men being taught. He had written three books and many articles for the Reviews and of his work it has been said he left nothing to be said, covering the subjects so thoroughly. Faith was the dominant feature of his life. He was the incarnation of conscience, loyal to truth, with a high sense of honor and lived up to the light of the truth he had. He was intensive in his speaking and many of the things making up life. He was enthusiasm itself, and what patience he had, he would read a volume to verify a date. Simplicity and courage marked his life. He met death with wonderful self-control, helping and giving directions of what should be done. A student who had witnessed his end was so impressed that he expressed it as a great privilege to see Dr. Richard die.

Dr. Billheimer then read resolutions passed by the Seminary Faculty and the services closed with hymn 231.

Interment was then made in the Evergreen cemetery.

Resolutions.

Whereas, The Rev. James W. Richard, D.D., LL.D., who since 1888 has been Professor of Homiletics and Ecclesiastical Theology in our Seminary, after a brief illness, passed to his reward, March 7, 1909, therefore

Resolved, That while deploring his sudden removal from among us in the midst of his strenuous labors and great usefulness, we nevertheless bow in reverent submission to the will of Him who doeth all things well.

That we record our grateful appreciation of these years of distinguished service which he was permitted to render to our beloved Church.

That we testify to his zeal for high educational standards for the clergy and institutions of his Church, and the consequent inspiration and encouragement to profounder scholarship on the part of his students.

That we recognize in Dr. Richard steadfastness and untiring devotion in the pursuit of his ideals, unflinching courage in maintaining his convictions at any sacrifice, a fine scorn for every semblance of duplicity, an unswerving adherence to his conception of truth and duty, together with a tenderness of heart like that of a child—in a word—the sterling qualities which constitute a well-poised Christian man.

That we express our deep sympathy with the bereaved family in their sorrow, and commend them to our Heavenly Father's love.

That these resolutions be spread on our minutes, and a copy sent to the Church papers for publication.

T. C. BILLHEIMER,
Sec. of Faculty.

Upset in Mud.

Harry T. Smith was taking Mrs. John Bream to her home near Biglerville on Monday of last week when the horse took fright at some telephone wires lying in the road. The buggy was upset and the occupants were given a bath of mud enveloping them from head to toe, but neither were injured. The buggy was somewhat damaged.

Bids Asked For.

The Gettysburg Battlefield Commission have asked for proposals for the complete construction for the $150,000 Pennsylvania memorial at Gettysburg. Bids will be received at the office of Gen. St. Clair A. Mulholland, Postoffice Building, Philadelphia, up to noon on the 17th day of April, 1909. The work is required to be completed within 14 months from date of signing contract. The proposals will cover excavation, foundations and the complete iron and granite work, omitting the cost of the models for the four granite bas-reliefs, cost of the bronze crowning piece, the two portrait figures and bronze inscription tablets.

It is stated that the site on the battlefield chosen for the monument lies near the railroad tracks, but facilities for getting the material to the spot, storing and handling will be up to the contractor; contractor must put up two per cent. of his bid and give bond in $25,000.

This looks like the answer to the request of the citizens of Gettysburg asking for a building in or near the town. A committee of reputable citizens of our town waited on the commission, requesting a building on site in town, the matter was put in writing at their request. What action they took is not made known. Gettysburg people seem sorry worth while for much consideration. The news of the asking for proposals comes through a paper sent us by one of the commission.

Smoke House Demolished.

Harvey S. Cromer, living near Mt. Joy Church, had his smoke house and wood house demolished last Friday morning by an explosion of dynamite. He had placed thirty sticks of dynamite in the smoke house to dry which contained the meat of three hogs. The family were at breakfast when the terrific explosion took place, which completely demolished the smoke house and wood house and blew to atoms the contents of the houses. The house was not injured except a great many window panes were broken. None of the family were injured. The explosion was heard for several miles around.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING— STATE HIGHWAY.

Can this town and county take any steps to be on the main line of a State highway from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh, or failing in this be on a branch of such highway? Undoubtedly proper steps could be taken that would place this community in the class that the Lord helps because they help themselves. Any organization of our people would have an advantageous position in the fact that at Gettysburg a State highway would be in touch with fifty miles of battlefield roads as good as in the State and also that at Gettysburg a junction could be had with the Lincoln Way which will be built some day. The historical importance of Gettysburg should make it imperative that Gettysburg be on the main line or a branch of any State road, and if the latter it could be reached within a distance of 25 miles and it would be a small matter to build a branch here. The town and county should organize so that these things can be brought to the attention of those who will have the deciding of the route of the State highway.

RECORD YOUR DEEDS.

It would be well if there was a law to compel the recording of every deed of real estate and until there is such a law every one buying real estate should recognize the necessity of such a law by placing their deed on record. Title to land is a basis of credit and it is only fair and honest to let the world know in whom was the title. When the United States buys a piece of ground every deed of the owner in the chain of title must be put on record at the cost of the owner. Uncle Sam has only acquired one-half of the acres in the Sickles' National Park Act and will be buying land in this county to add to the park and will some day build the Lincoln Way and buy more land. The State may buy acres in building State roads or hundreds of acres to add to forest reservations. When the owners come to sell to the State or nation in these events or any other, all deeds will have to be recorded. Why wait until that time to record your deeds? Do it now as soon as title is made to you. There was a proceeding lately in our courts to perpetuate testimony of a lost or destroyed deed and the cost of the proceeding was ten times what it would have cost to put the deed on record when made. Such proceedings could cost and have cost twenty to fifty times the cost of recording. A citizen of the county some years ago lost his deeds in the burning of his home and he was unable to make proof of the existence of the deeds on account of death and his title was placed in a very embarrassing position. The only right way is to record your deed. Once a deed is recorded the best evidence in any court of the deed is the record. The deed may become lost or destroyed but it makes no difference, the record is the best evidence and a certified copy of the record is as good as the original. The easiest and cheapest way for the buyer of real estate to protect his title is to put his deed on record as soon as delivered.

ARC LIGHTS.

The acceptance of the bid for electric lighting for the next five years does not settle how many arc and Tungsten lamps will be used, as that is a matter to be decided by the Light Committee and Town Council. There is no question as to the lamp that should be used for efficiency and cost as the history of electric lighting has demonstrated that the arc lamp is the cheapest and best street light. According to candle power the Tungsten lamp is five times a dearer lamp. There are certain isolated spots about the town and less frequented places than others where a Tungsten ought to give all the light desired, but the main thoroughfares will be better lighted by the arc lamps and at less cost. The present system of town lighting is satisfactory to our citizens and as there will be a saving at the new rate of about one-fifth the annual bill there should be no change in system of lighting the town.

ALM HOUSE.

The Alms House account should make satisfactory reading to every citizen interested in an economical administration of that institution. A total expense of $10,926.83 is quite different from over $18,000 and over $19,000 in the last years of Republican administration. The Alms House was managed in 1908 for $18,272 less than in 1905, and for $2192 less than in 1904, the two last years of Republican administration. The Democratic administration has made good and is making good in an economical management and an institution maintained at a high standard.

Hotel Royal Poinciana, Palm Beach.

Editor Compiler:
Palm Beach, the most fascinating and cosmopolitan of America's smart resorts, is a poem, a dream, and a tropical paradise. One sees here the fashionables of Newport, Bar Harbor and Lenox; the nouveau riche of New York and the West; the conservative "fought and bled" element from the South's four most blue-blooded cities—Charleston, Savannah, Augusta and Mobile; the sporty element from the Hot Springs of Arkansas and about any one else who selects to pay something like a hundred and twenty-five a week for a room and bath in the largest resort hotel in all the world, and who, in order to get there, is willing to brave the trip through pines and sand more than three hundred miles to the south of Jacksonville—the gateway to this beautiful land of sunshine and flowers.

Indeed, Palm Beach is wonderful and its glories have not been sung without reason. There is nothing quite like it in this country and its equal is not to be found this side of the European Riviera.

The Royal Poinciana is quite worthy of its flowery euphonious name. It has the ocean on one side and Lake Worth on the other, and is surrounded by gardens of orchids and poincianas that are bewitching in their tropical loveliness. The room clerk just told me the "house count" for today was seventeen hundred and fifty-five guests. There are 2300 rooms, 1400 employees, and two miles of halls. At the other hotel, The Breakers, are eight hundred guests. These two houses, together with the Alcazar and Ponce de Leon, at St. Augustine, the Royal Palm at Miami, and the Colonial and Royal Victoria at Nassau, with a few others of lesser note, are conducted by the Florida East Coast Railway and Hotel Company.

Everybody knows that the "company" is one man—Henry M. Flagler, of Standard Oil fame, "the father of the East Coast." Years ago, before Flagler developed the East Coast, rich northern visitors to Florida went down the West Coast to Tampa, and other "Plant System" points. When Plant died the West Coast died with him. Today only cheap Raymond and Whitcomb and Cook tourists go down the West Coast, and no American resort can live and be truly exclusive and fashionable when "personally conducted" are stalking around looking for penny stamps to post their souvenir cards. They invariably drive away the goose that lays the golden eggs. A few of the better class are marching on Palm Beach, but the hotels do not encourage them, because they want ninety-nine cents and two pitchers of ice water for every dollar invested. And then, as I intimated, they drive away our dear, democratic Vanderbilts and Astors, who are perfectly willing to be "shaken down," and whose presence is an inducement for the rich social climbers and crawlers from Pittsburgh and the stockyards to winter "in their midst." They too, are willing to be "plucked."

Flagler has provided against the death of the East Coast hotels by decreeing that the system shall never be sold separate from his railroad.

Within two years he expects to enter Havana in his own private car, which means that he will establish a car-ferry from Key West. I went over his "Over-the-Sea" route last week to Knight's Key, the present terminus, and from which point boats are now running daily to Havana. Flagler was fore-sighted enough to see that Havana will be the future Mecca of the American tourist, and that is why he is building a railroad out over the ocean from key to key—to Key West. It is a wonderful feat of engineering. Also, he expects to have a hotel in Havana as soon as the Cubans get through fighting each other, which will probably not be until Uncle Sam steps in and flags them.

Palm Beach is truly cosmopolitan. In the Palm Room of the Royal Poinciana last night I saw at one table Bob Miller, who hails from Pine Grove Schuylkill county, and who was in Gettysburg College about the time that "Al" McCullough and the writer were conducting the business and financial end of the Wheelbarrow Express, and who is kindly remembered because he was always good for one "iron man," whereas those who passed on to Seminary never had that much in their clothes at one time but we'll let that pass; at another nearby table was Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Vanderbilt, Oliver Harriman, Bessie Henry, whose wife just divorced him and remarried, and Harry Black, whose company built the Flatiron Building. At another table was Willie Anderson, the golf champion, and some of his Scotch friends; at another the kidnapped Cudway boy of Omaha, now quite a young man; at still another young Vincent Astor, the only son of Colonel Jack Astor, who was with his tutor, and round and about the cafe I noticed Lady Clifford of Chudleigh, who was with Mrs. Poulney Bigelow, of New York and London, and the latter's beautiful daughter, Dorothy Bigelow, the granddaughter of old John Bigelow, of Gramercy Park; Mrs. Helen Kelly Gould, who is suing French Count, a German Baron, an English Lord or two, a notorious gambler of world wide fame, and "Fingy" Connors of Buffalo, the exceedingly amusing person who ran the New York State Democratic convention. With him was the ex-Boss, Dick Croker and Andy Freedman, who owned the New York "Giants" (?) when they always finished in the hole.

Yes, Palm Beach is amusing and interesting. I have not worn a hat in three weeks and have been in the ocean every day. Temperature for three weeks: High 77, low 71. Rain one day, and then only for half an hour. Cherries are ripe—also strawberries, grape fruit, oranges, and then some.

Merrily yours, with kind regards to the Snow Man.

"POLLY."

March.
Durned if March don't make me tired! Reputation its acquired! Comes plumb honest, no mistake, March is generally awake! One day soft an' calm an' bright, Next it rains or snows 'fore night. Ain't no month in all the year Gives such promises of cheer An' don't fill 'em. Wind jest turns, Turns an' twists, an' fairly churns Things, outel, I swan, yore daft At the weather's cunning' craft.

You think spring's a-comin' in, Makes you want to work an' win. Hear a bluebird, maybe, high In the hov'rin' pale blue sky. Pick a violet somers' roun', Er a dandelion's foun', An' you got the ol' plough out— Things is changin' hereabout. Ain't no use, it's all a bluff, Natur' can't deliver the stuff. Turns that cold you think you'll freeze, March don't seem to want to please.

Still, there's somethin' honest like, Ez the months go down the pike, In ol' March. Seems like it would Break grim winter if it could. Kind o' hints o' fruits an' flowers, An' looks like it bends its powers To bring sunshine sweet an' calm An' fill ev'ry breeze with balm. Wants, I think, to do plum right, An' it's full o' vim, an' light, Ain't got tense enuff for guile, March ain't—jest its nervous style!

ALL UNSTRUNG.

Many Gettysburg People Suffer from Nervous Troubles and Don't Know Why.

Thousands of cases of kidney trouble show few outward symptoms except nervousness, depression, languor, irritability and an inclination to worry over trifles. It is generally due to the poisonous action of uric acid on blood and nerves, and can't be cured except by curing the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills cure these ills by curing the kidneys. Gettysburg women are learning it. Here's a local case.

Mrs. J. Warren Gilbert, 128 W. Middle St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "My health was very poor for some time, owing to a weakness of the kidneys. I had nearly all the symptoms that usually accompany a bad case of kidney trouble, such as backache, restlessness at night, dizzy spells and headaches. I took many medicines but received no benefit until I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the People's Drug Store. They gave me relief at once and in a short time I was without a sign of the trouble. I heartily endorse this remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

HOW TO PREPARE A MIXTURE TO CURE RHEUMATISM.

This Town Has Its Share of Dread Disease, which is Said to Yield to Simple Home Recipe.

To relieve the worst forms of Rheumatism, take a teaspoonful of the following mixture after each meal and at bedtime:
Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

These harmless ingredients can be obtained from our home druggists, and are easily mixed by shaking them well in a bottle. Relief is generally felt from the first few doses.

This prescription forces the clogged-up, inactive kidneys to filter and strain from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, which causes Rheumatism.

As Rheumatism is not only the most painful and torturous disease, but dangerous to life, this simple receipt will no doubt be greatly valued by many sufferers here at home, who should at once prepare the mixture to get this relief.

It is said that a person who would take this prescription regularly, a dose or two daily, or even a few times a week, would never have serious Kidney or Urinary disorders or Rheumatism.

Cut this out and preserve it. Good Rheumatism prescriptions which really relieve are scarce, indeed, and when you need it, you need it badly.

Flavoring Tobacco.

Nearly all tobaccos are doctored in various ways in order to suit the tastes of different consumers. Each manufacturer—even in Havana—has his own secret methods, handed down from father to son, which are regarded as perfectly legitimate and necessary in the preparation of the soothing weed. Salt-peter is added to the tobacco to make it burn well, licorice, honey, molasses and maple sugar to give sweetness to it for the special benefit of chewers and rum to make it keep well and preserve its properties. Nearly every plant which will afford a perfume is used in the preparation of what are known as "fancy" tobaccos. But it is not true, as some suppose, that opium and deleterious drugs are employed, save in a few brands of imported Turkish and Egyptian cigarettes. Among the flavors used are coffee, tea, valerian, lemon, orange, geranium, sassafras, thyme, anise, mint and cinnamon. Gum and glycerin are occasionally employed to bind the tobacco particles so that they shall not crumble into dust. The various ingredients are made into a kind of sauce, into which the tobacco leaves are dipped or with which they are sprinkled.—London Answers.

The Proper Adjective.

At the close of a revival service in Philadelphia the minister of the church went down the aisle, according to his custom, to greet the strangers in the congregation. "I don't think you are a member of our church," said he to one as he warmly shook his hand. "No, sir," replied the stranger. "Well, you will not think me unduly curious if I ask to what denomination you belong?" asked the minister. "I suppose," responded the other, "I'm really what you might call a submerged Presbyterian." "A submerged Presbyterian!" exclaimed the minister. "I should be glad if you would explain." "Well, I was brought up a Presbyterian, my wife is a Methodist, my eldest daughter is a Baptist, my son is the organizer at a Unitarian church, my second daughter sings in an Episcopal choir, and my youngest goes to a Congregational Sunday school." "But," said the minister, agitated, "you contribute doubtless to some church?" "Yes; I contribute to all of them." "That's the answer," said the minister, "That's what submerges me."

Crows and Strings.

It was proved centuries ago that a crow can count up to three and no more. I met a farmer once who said that his corn crop had not failed in twenty years owing to his habit of stringing his field. He explained: "No crow will enter an angle formed by two strings stretched on poles. I illustrated this to some friends several years ago by sowing a small field in corn for fodder, protecting it by a zigzag string running from one end to the other. Within the angles formed by the string not a blade of the young crop was touched, but close without them, at each end, the whole crop was demolished. A crow is a very wise fool, and this is an effective and cheap way of circumventing him."—New York Press.

Sign Language on the Curb.

Any one would imagine all the curb brokers in Broad street were mutes. They use the sign language down there now to convey quotations and sales to their office boys and clerks who sit in the windows of the offices to catch the quotations. As a matter of fact, some of the brokers use the deaf and dumb alphabet; others use a distinct signaling code of their own, known only to the one single house and its representative. Even this, however, has to be changed now and then. The brokers possess a nimble wit, and they soon learn the secret signs of their competitors.—New York Cor. Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Safest Way.

"My friends dragged me into this wretched affair," shiveringly said the first duelist to his adversary as the seconds approached with the deadly weapons. "I never pulled the trigger of a pistol in my life, so if I hit you it will be an accident."

"Nor is this awful duel to my liking," whined the challenger, white to the gills. "Like you, a pistol is a strange article to my hands, and if I shoot you it will be with a stray shot."

"Then, by heaven's sake," exclaimed the first duelist, with a ray of hope, "let's aim carefully at each other or one of us may get hit!"—Kansas City Newsbook.

Selwyn's Curious Taste.

George Selwyn had a strange but not uncommon passion for seeing dead bodies, especially those of his friends. He would go any distance to gratify this pursuit. Lord Holland was laid up very ill at Holland House shortly before his death. George Selwyn sent to ask how he was and whether he would like to see him. Lord Holland answered: "Oh, by all means! If I'm alive tomorrow I shall be delighted to see George, and I know that if I am dead he will be delighted to see me!"

Went a Shade Better.

"You—you are temperamental! Impossible," roared the first angry man. "And you," replied the second, getting red in the face, "are temperamental! Inconceivable!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

And Expensive.

"Surely she must have some favorite flower?"

"No; I don't think so. Anything will please her—that is, anything that's out of season."—Kansas City Journal.

No two persons are ever more confidential and cordial than when they are censuring a third.—Jean Paul Richter.

PHILA. BRIGADE ASSOCIATION

Resolutions Co-operation with State Commission is Intended.

The following are the resolutions recently adopted by the Philadelphia Brigade Association as to the 50th Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg. Copies of these resolutions have been sent to the Commanders-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Confederate Veterans.

Whereas, The 50th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg is approaching, and

Whereas, That anniversary will form a fitting occasion for a reunion of the survivors of the Civil War—a reunion of the Blue and Gray such as never has been witnessed on any battlefield in the history of the world—and with the view of beginning the movement for such a reunion, it is

Resolved, By the survivors of the Philadelphia Brigade that we unite in recommending to the Commanders-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic and the United Confederate Veterans that they do now begin the work necessary to bringing about such a reunion, and

Whereas, It is especially desirable that the survivors of the Union and Confederate Armies, who took part in the Battle of Gettysburg, shall be brought together upon this occasion, it is, therefore, further

Resolved, That we request the Commanders-in-Chief of the G. A. R. and U. C. V. to promptly bring this matter to the consideration of the Governors of the 18 Northern and 11 Southern States represented in that Battle by soldiers from their respective States in order that provision may be made for taking the survivors of that battle to the historic field of Gettysburg.

Resolved, That it is deemed advisable that the reunion shall continue for the three days corresponding with the battle, and we recommend that the orator for the first day shall be the Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. For the second day the Commander-in-Chief of the United Confederate Veterans, and that the President of the United States be requested to deliver the oration on the third day of the reunion.

The information has been received saying that these resolutions supply something left out of the commission bill before the legislature, the co-operation of the Grand Army of the Republic and the United Confederate Veterans, and that the resolutions are intended as a co-operation with the commission to be appointed by the Governor under the bill before the Legislature in the 50th anniversary celebration.

Life Guards.

The Life Guards are two regiments of cavalry forming part of the British household troops. They are gallant soldiers, and every loyal British heart is proud of them. Not only the King's household, but yours, ours, everybody's should have its life guards. The need of them is especially great when the greatest foes of life, diseases, find allies in the very elements, as colds, influenza, catarrh, the grip, and pneumonia do in the stormy month of March. The best way that we know of to guard against these diseases is to strengthen the system with Hood's Sarsaparilla—the greatest of all life guards. It removes the conditions in which these diseases make their most successful attack, gives vigor and tone to all the vital organs and functions, and imparts a genial warmth to the blood. Remember the weaker the system the greater the exposure to disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the system strong.

A Grateful Boy.

A gift always opens the door of an Eskimo heart, declares Knud Rasmussen in "The People of the Polar North," and then tells the story of a little orphan boy whom he ran across in his travels.

I had a little pocketknife in my pocket, and I presented it to him in order to establish our acquaintance. It was assuredly the first time in his life that the boy had ever had such an experience as to receive a present. I assured him that I really meant it. Then, without a change of expression, he snatched the knife out of my hand and ran off. I did not think that I should see any more of him and was just going into our tent when he came running up with a piece of walrus meat, which he pressed into my hand.

"Thou gavest, see; I give, too," said he, and his face shone with grease and pride. But from that day forth we were friends.

Kajorung had no relatives at all to look after him. He was everybody's drudge and slept in an old ruined building, where he said he was very comfortable. He could not have been more than ten years old at the outside, although there was little of the child about him, but after he came to live in our tent we noticed that he began to sing when alone, and after awhile he would beat time to his singing on a little tin box, so in spite of a life of neglect he got a little joy now and then.

An Essay on Man.

Man that is born of woman is small potatoes and few in a hill. He rises up today and flourishes like a rag weed, and tomorrow or next day the undertaker hath him. He goeth forth in the morning warbling like a lark and is knocked out in one round and two seconds. In the midst of life he is in debt, and the tax collector pursues him wherever he goeth. The banister of life is full of splinters, and he slideth down with considerable rapidity. He cometh home at eventide and meeteth the wheelbarrow in his path. It riseth up and smiteth him to the earth and falleth upon him and runneth one of its legs into his ear. In the gentle springtime he putteth on his summer clothes, and a blizzard striketh him far from home and felleth him with cuss words and rheumatism. He becometh a watchdog, and when he cometh home from the club the watchdog treeth him and sitteth near him until rosy morn. He goeth to the race course and betteth his money on the brown mare and the bay gelding with a blaze face winneth. He marryeth a red headed heiress with a wart on her nose, and the next day the parent ancestor goeth under with a crash and great liabilities and cometh home to live with his beloved son-in-law.

chased off twice to prevent it being killed. It was then chased by dogs to near Bittinger where it was again almost killed by the morning passenger train. Engineer Eichelberger chased it away and saved its life again. A freight which followed killed the pretty animal and it was taken to Hanover. Dr. Russell, agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, decided to dispose of the carcass by presenting it to the Sisters at St. Joseph's Convent, at McSherrystown. It is thought that the buck came from the mountains in the vicinity of Emmitsburg.

Horse Killed.
 A horse owned by Maurice Bittinger of Bittinger's Station, hitched to a spring wagon, ran away last Saturday after injuring the driver, a man named Hawkins. The latter was hitching up the animal preparatory to hauling coal for Mr. Bittinger, when the horse became unruly and threw the driver to the ground, the wheels of the wagon passing over his body. The maddened animal started for Hanover where he arrived at 10.45 a. m., running up Carlisle street with the front part of the wagon attached to him, the rear wheels and the body having been left somewhere along the road. The animal after reaching Centre Square turned down Frederick street and in attempting to make the turn into High street fell, breaking his left leg near the hoof. The horse was taken to the stable of Dr. Nathan Stambaugh, who ordered the animal killed.

ECZEMA CURABLE? PROVEN!

Attorney at Moline, Ill., Convinced by Oil of Wintergreen Compound.

There is nothing that will convince a lawyer except evidence. Now, here is some rather startling evidence of a simple home cure for eczema which convinced one lawyer, F. C. Entrieken, attorney at Moline, Ill. He tells how oil of wintergreen compound mixed with thymol and glycerine, as in D. D. D. Prescription, cured him in thirty days after 32 years of suffering.
 "For 32 years," writes Attorney Entrieken, "I was troubled with eczema scabs all over my face, body and head. I could run a hair brush over my body and the floor would be covered with scales enough to fill a basket. I tried everything — salves, internal medicine, X-Ray—all without result."
 "Just a month ago I was induced to try D. D. D. Prescription. The itch was relieved instantly, so I continued. It is just a month now and I am completely cured. I have not a particle of it and the scales have dropped off."
 "I can only say again Cure Discovered. I am now starting all eczema sufferers on the right track."
 Cure after cure has been brought to our attention and always that instant relief from the awful itch.—The People's Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa.
